Marco Rubio Should Resign because of Voters' Fraud?

Marco Rubio, (R, Florida)

Did Marco Rubio consistently tell lies that were an intricate part of his campaigning over the years to trick the emotions of Cuban refugee era voters? Is that voters' fraud? You know the lies, that his parents left Cuba because of, as he says, a thug name Fidel Castro. If so then Marco Rubio should immediately resign from the United States Senate.

These lies were premeditated and effective tools of deceit, trickery and voters manipulation.

I don't believe at all any of his explanations of the confusion of the dates. It's hard for me to believe that Mario's parents at one point early on in time did not said to him, "Hey junior, you got those dates wrong". But just maybe they all saw the political fortunes, capital and opportunities to be had by perpetuating the lies.

When Marco's parents left Cuba years before Castro came to power, they were not refugees fleeing tyranny. They were opportunistic immigrants to America. You know there is nothing wrong with that.

My parents were opportunists too when they left the cotton field of Manning, South Carolina for Miami, Florida. They arrived in Miami 1957 or 1958? I had just started first grade in Manning when the family was uprooted.

How could a gentleman who is a lawyer, once speaker of the Florida House and now a United States Senator be so confused and dumbfounded about his parent's arrival in America? Marco Rubio manufactured for political gain an affinity with the exodus from Communist Cuba.

In the 2010 Senate election, Marco won by 48.9%. He beat Charlie Crist by 19% He received 45% of the Hispanic votes and 48% of the White vote. If the truth was known before the election, I think that Rubio would have lost one third if not more of the voters who voted for him. I figured that results of the election could have been different.

In South Florida ...

If you are seeking the Hispanic vote in and you are also Hispanic, being identified however with the Exodus from Castro's Cuba is a plus. And if you shout anti-Castro slogans and call Castro a thug, you are qualified to be elected.

Show me an elected Hispanic politician who ran for office and never mentioned Fidel Castro and I will show you a person that will never be elected.

If you are seeking the Jewish vote, just pretend that your last dying breath will be for the defense of Israel.

If you are seeking the White vote, just stress that you are for law and order, and keep saying, "Lock umm all up, throw the key away, long live capital punishment".

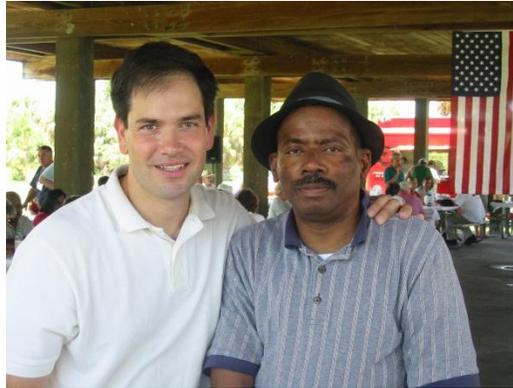

Now if you seek the Black vote, just pay a few select Black Preachers. Have a prayer breakfast with them and read a few scriptures from the Bible. Visit their churches on a Sunday; sit on the front row and hum along with the choir, "Come to Jesus". Don't forget to have your picture taken with Deacon Brown's wife Bessie.

You must visit the Black churches two Sundays before the election. It's rumored that Blacks have short memories.

When politicians like Marco, by 'hook or crook' align themselves the sufferings of a mass exodus, they get the support of those refugees' families, friends and that community of voters.

The Cubans in this country, especially in South Florida, are very clannish. There are two things that they all agree on; their hatred of Fidel Castro and one day liberating the island of Cuba. By claiming the he was the son of a refugee from Cuba, Marco Rubio skillfully took advantage of the emotions of the Cubans for personal political gains.

I once, when I was a Republican, met Marco at a Republican Party BBQ in Hillsborough County Florida.

Marco Rubio and Al Mccray

I found him to be energetic, smart, and knowledgeable on a variety of subjects and a powerful speaker. I really thought the he was a fresh flavor for the future of the Republican Party. But now I am wondering; behind that charming boyish there could be a political operative fox slicker that Richard "Trick Dick" Nixon?

America has had more than its share of lying politicians. There have been so many that I don't have to name any of them. A few years ago a lie cost almost 5,000 Americans to die on foreign soil. They never found the weapons mass destruction. Ooops that was a Presidential lie.

In my mind, Mr. Rubio knowingly deceived the Hispanic voters of Florida, especially in South Florida. I think this is voters' fraud and he should immediately resign from the United States Senate.
